Subject: World Palm Symposium 2015

Dear Colleague,

We want to let you know that the venue of the forthcoming World Palm Symposium 2015 has been moved a few kilometers from its original place. Instead of taking place at the small Hotel Mis Bohíos, at the Cocora Valley in Salento, the symposium will be developed at the spacious rural Hotel Las Camelias (www.camelias.com.co), in Montenegro, Quindío, 30 km SW of the original venue.

Registration fees have not changed, but accommodation will now be added to the registration fee, as all participants will be hosted at the same hotel. This not only makes accommodation easier for all participants, but offers excellent apportunities for social interaction during the evenings. Las Camelias is surrounded by coffee plantations and includes swimming pools, gym and disco, thus offering the best opportunities for social activities after sessions.

Please visit the Symposium website (http://palms2015.au.dk/), choose your preferred accommodation and proceed to register. If you have already paid your registration fees, just add the difference, according, to the typo of room you choose . And don't forget to include the closing party in your payment --it will be an unforgettable event!

Remember that reduced registration fees will be available only until December 31st.

We look forward to seeing you at Quindío.

Best regards,
Organizing Committee
